FROM CODE TO LISTING

Your token deserves more than a post. Launching is a sequence: build it, list it, launch it, get it covered, keep the community. Most projects hire a different vendor for every step. We run the whole thing as one plan.

01

BUILD

Contracts, dApp, token mechanics, built in-house.

02

LIST

CoinGecko, CoinMarketCap and exchanges, prepared weeks before.

03

LAUNCH

Creators and campaigns, with audiences checked first.

04

GET COVERED

Press where founders and investors read.

05

KEEP

Ambassadors, moderation, a reason to come back.

WHAT WE ARE

A Web3 growth partner. More than 200 projects since 2020, across the Americas, Europe and Asia. In-house, end to end.

HOW WE ENGAGE

A growth partnership from US$5k a month, or a focused sprint on one objective. Start at whichever stage you are in.

WHAT WE NEVER PROMISE

Results the data cannot carry. Past work is shown by category, never by client name.

THE LOCKUP

NEW

Bull and wordmark share one faceted texture. Wevolv carries the bull's low-poly teal, the 3 stays white, and the bull sits centred on the word.

The mark alone, below 120 px

Favicon and avatar

RULES

- Clear space on every side equals the height of the bull's horns.
- Minimum width: 30 mm in print, 120 px on screen. Below that, the mark alone.
- Always on black or on a dark scene. On a busy image, under a dark veil.
- Top left in the site navigation; top right on every carousel slide.
- Never retype the wordmark, never split the 3 from Wevolv.
- Never redraw, flatten, recolour, rotate, outline or stretch it.

Retired October 2026. The descriptor "Web3 & Crypto Marketing" under the wordmark. The positioning now lives in the copy, as on the site hero: Web3 growth partner. From code to listing.

BLACK, EMERALD, BLUE

Black carries everything. Emerald is the brand voice: the button, the labels, the links, the line under a title. Blue is the second accent, used for the one card that should catch the eye and for small markers.

Every page, every slide.

The button. Emerald block, white type in Bold uppercase, 5 px corners. One per view. The secondary action is a graphite block with a hairline border. Lime is retired. There is no light theme on the site; print and documents keep the black pages.

CLASH DISPLAY

The same family and files as the site. The contrast is the system: huge Bold for the section title, Extralight for everything that names a thing, Light for reading.

GROWTH PARTNERSHIP

ROLE	WEIGHT	TREATMENT
Hero word, section title	700	Uppercase, very large, tight leading, a thin emerald line runs out from it
Service names, card titles, subheads	200	Uppercase
Carousel headline	300	Uppercase, the biggest thing on the slide
Body	300	Sentence case, white on #CFCFCF
Big numbers	500	On the number cards
Labels, chips	600	Uppercase, wide tracking, emerald
Buttons, nav action	700	Uppercase, small, white on emerald

THE WORKING PARTS

NUMBER CARDS

Same width, a black dot top left, the figure in Medium, the caption in Light. The first card is blue, the rest step through greys.

OFFER CARD

Graphite, hairline border, 5 px corners. Emerald chip, Extralight title, one button.

LIST ROWS AND MARKERS

Numbered rows in a small graphite box. The blue plus and the blue square are the only decorative marks.

The carousel. Four slides, 1080×1350, black. Logo top right, emerald chip top left, headline in Light uppercase, a cinematic scene in the lower half, the counter n/4. Slide 3 carries the proof on a graphite card, slide 4: the single emerald button.

SCENES, NOT STOCK NEW

The same illustrated world as the service rows on the site: cinematic, painted, dark, with warm practical light. Every image is a scene from the life of a launch, generated in the Studio.

- Illustrated and cinematic, never photographic stock. Warm amber light against deep teal and blue.
- Anonymous people: founders, devs, moderators, holders. Faces in shadow or from behind.
- One idea per image, the same idea as the headline above it.
- Generated through the Studio (Antigravity, Flow), so the brand rules travel with the image.
- Text, numbers or logos inside the image. Type is set on top.
- Real projects, real tokens, client names or a client's interface.
- Charts that predict price, a candle pointing to the moon, coins raining from the sky.
- Images made outside the Studio.

MEET STRIKE

NEW

The Wevolv3 bull in person. A larger-than-life showman who has seen every kind of launch, talks like he is always at a podium and gives every mistake a nickname. The voice of the brand in short video, in Portuguese.

Look	Low-poly bull in warm copper, pale horns. The outfit is all brand palette: black three-piece suit with a graphite vest, white shirt, and emerald tie , pocket square , lapel pin and lapel piping . No navy, no gold.
Where the brand shows	On him, in the emerald details. The copper bull against the emerald is what makes him pop on the feed. Scenes stay dark, with teal and emerald light.
Voice	Deep, slow, certain. Repeats a word for weight. Always the same generated voice.
Lines	"Ninguém entende de lançamento mais do que eu. Ninguém." · "Isso é fake. Muito fake." · Sign-off: "Do código à listagem. Tremendo."
Never	A real person's face, voice or catchphrase. Politics. Price calls or token tips. Real projects or clients. Promised results.

MEET LUCY

NEW

Lucy is the Siamese cat of WeKOLnect, our creator database. Where Strike exaggerates, Lucy checks. Calm, dry, few words. She opens the data, finds the 12 likes behind the 40,000 followers and ends the argument with one line.

Look	Low-poly Siamese cat in the faceted style of the WeKOLnect mark; ivory fur, seal-brown mask and ears, glowing emerald eyes. Fitted black blazer with emerald piping, a tablet that glows emerald.
Role	The voice of WeKOLnect and of everything about creators: audience checks, pricing, fake reach. With Strike, the straight half of the duo.
Voice	Soft, precise, a little ironic. Never raises her tone. Always the same generated voice.
Lines	"Deixa eu conferir." · "Doze curtidas, Strike." · "O número não mente."
Never	The same rules as Strike: no real people, no politics, no price calls, no clients, no promised results, no creator's individual price.

The WeKOLnect mark, her reference

Lucy

MOTION CARRIES MEANING

Two kinds of video. Brand boards explain a relationship and move only when movement says something. Strike episodes are comedy and move on the joke.

BRAND BOARDS

Entrances only	The transition is the exit.
Ease out, never bounce	power3.out, power4.out, expo.out.
Lines draw	The emerald line under a title grows from the word, like on the site.
Deterministic	The same frame renders identically every time.
Close	One emerald flash, then the lockup on black.

1920×1080 and 1080×1920, 30 fps, 10 to 20 seconds, authored in HTML with the site's own fonts.

STRIKE EPISODES

Format	1080×1920, 20 to 40 seconds, Portuguese, captions in Clash Display.
The hook	The mistake on screen in the first two seconds.
The turn	Strike names it: KOL Fantasma, Founder Sonolento, Press Release Invisível. When the subject is creators, Lucy checks the number.
The lesson	One line that actually teaches something.
The close	"Do código à listagem. Tremendo," and the lockup.

HOW WE WRITE

DO

- Name the problem before the service. "A listing is one day on the calendar. Being ready takes weeks."
- Bring the number, with its source. 200 projects, 861 creators, +200% holders for a Layer 1 partner.
- Describe clients by category: "a Layer 1 chain", "a DeFi protocol". Most work runs under NDA.
- Call ourselves a Web3 growth partner. For contrast, describe the behaviour: "the people you hire and never hear from again".
- One idea per sentence. Plain words a founder reads once.

BEFORE

"Full-service, results-driven Web3 marketing solutions that unlock exponential growth. We turn attention into adoption, and we measure it."

DO NOT

- Em dashes. Use a period, a colon or parentheses.
- Promise measurement or results the data cannot carry.
- Name a client, or state what one individual creator charges.
- Hype verbs: revolutionise, unlock, supercharge, leverage. Emoji in headings or buttons.
- Any label for us other than growth partner, not even to contrast with it.

AFTER

"Your token deserves more than a post. Launching is a sequence: build it, list it, launch it, get it covered, keep the community."
